Jesus in the Wild: Temptation
Luke 4:1-14; Ephesians 6:10-20
Pastor Cody Young

Each and every day, we're faced with temptation. Temptation is a deliberate attempt to convince us to disobey God's Word, and it stems from multiple places. Sometimes, we're tempted by the people around us. Or, it comes from within ourselves due to a deeply rooted sense of pride. Sometimes, the temptation we face is from our spiritual enemies. Regardless of where it comes from, temptation seems to wear us down, and we often give in to the sinful urges that are present in our everyday lives.

While in the wilderness, Jesus was faced with three distinct temptations. At first glance, some of these temptations seem silly. However, beneath each is a lie presented about God. To give in to temptation is to succumb to these lies, and that is not what God wants for us. He wants to provide us with the tools necessary to recognize how we're tempted, detect the lie beneath the temptation, and give us the strength to resist the temptation, no matter how strong it may be.

As we take another look at this wonderful account from Luke 4, we will be given a model for how to respond when temptation comes our way. He will give us everything we need to overcome our spiritual enemy, which will help us become all we are meant to be as a child of God.
