us Christ-like. It is going on to perfection, being made perfect in love. Sanctifying grace is the living out of God’s Word. It is becoming who we were meant to be.

Welcome
Announcements

Our self-worth can only be found in Christ, not in other people and certainly not in our good works. We cannot earn God’s love. This is what Wesley came to understand firsthand.

Opening Music: You Say
by Lauren Daigle

Prior to his Aldersgate experience, John Wesley suffered from religious legalism. Trying to earn our worth in the eyes of our family, our peers, or society can leave us feeling empty and devalued.

Call to Worship

Scripture: Genesis 3:1-24

God’s Grace is love that is given freely. We cannot earn His love.

Giving of Our Gifts

Musical Offering-Instrumental

Prevenient grace: meets us where we are and is at work in the world, in all people, calling them to a better life in Christ, before they ever meet Christ.

Song Celebration

What a Friend
This Is Amazing Grace

Justifying grace: the assurance of forgiveness that comes from repentance. It is being reconciled and realigned with God through Jesus Christ. Justification is knowing that we are unconditionally loved as children of God. This is what Wesley experienced on Aldersgate Street.

Message:

“Methodism: Grace, Grace and More Grace”

Scripture Romans 3:20b-28

Speaker: Reverend Janet Sattel

Wesley discovered that his worth and identity were contained in who he was in Christ, not in his accomplishments or achievements.

Prayer

Prayer Response: (Instrumental)
Blessed Assurance

There is true freedom in justifying grace because our own self-acceptance is based on God’s acceptance. Justifying grace says that our identity, our self-worth and our security are rooted in God’s unconditional love and God’s claim on us has set us free to be who we are.

Closing Song: Boldly I Approach
By Rend Collective

Sanctifying grace: means “to make holy.” Sanctification is the process of restoring the divine image in us. Sanctifying grace is God’s continuing work in us through the Holy Spirit to make
